Reflection: A Hard Kind of Prayer

I love the line,
"Lord, don't you care?"
because it is so typical of our reactions.
Yes, there is a God, but what is he like?
Mark is trying to tell us, and like as not, we can't hear.
The sound of the inner wind is deafening us.

"Lord, don't you care?"
We may have to wait out the prayer,
wait out the days or weeks,
without coming to the quietude
we feel we ought to be able to have.

"Lord, don't you care?"
And that is all we have to offer him.
So wait there. Offer it.
Don't thrash and gnash your teeth wanting to be other than the weak and self-interested little disciple in the boat.

The worst aspect of a nervous upheaval—guilt, anger, despair, and whatever else is messing up the deeps of our personalities—is trying to counter desperation with desperation.

"I have to be good.
I have to be the opposite of what I feel:
serene, accepting, and peaceful.
I have to trust."

Maybe the kind of trust the Lord is asking for is precisely my putting up with the experience of knowing that I am fiercely pulling at his jacket to wake him up and make him into the God I want to be able to please.

It's a hard kind of prayer.

But it acknowledges surrender to the ministrations of a sea I cannot understand.

Sr. Miriam Pollard

Word of Life

Through our prayers and through the intercession of St. Joseph, patron of fathers, may fathers come to know the irreplaceable role they hold in the lives of their children, and the responsibility they share in welcoming God's gift of new life! Most Reverend Shelton J. Fabre, Bishop of Houma-Thibodaux "Fathers' Irreplaceable Role in Welcoming Life"
