3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Thoughts on Today's Liturgy

Reading 1: Isaiah 8:23-9:3 In Galilee of the Gentiles, the people have seen a great light.

Reading 2: Corinthians 1:10-13,17 That all of you may agree in what you say, and that there be no divisions among you

Gospel: Matthew 4:12-23 Jesus went to Capernaum, so that what had been said through Isaiah might be fulfilled.

3rd Sunday In Ordinary Time

As we celebrate the week of Christian Unity, we are called upon to live in harmony with one another. St. Paul's message to us today is, "I urge you, brothers and sisters, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree in what you say and that there be no divisions among you." (1Cor.1:10). Christ has called us individually, as he called his apostles Peter, Andrew, and the other apostles, to bring more people into the love of his father. He says to us today, "Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men". This call by Christ gives meaning to our baptism into his life. Are you ready to emulate the first apostles of Jesus who responded to his invitation without hesitation? It is said about Peter and Andrew, "At once they left their nets and followed him, and about James and John, it is said, immediately they left their boat and their father and followed him." (Mt. 4: 18-22) Jesus did not call idle people to be his apostles. He rather called those whom he had seen being enthusiastic on their work and expected them to use the same enthusiasm they attached to their job to attract more people into the Kingdom of his Father. Do not let your job be a barrier between you and the invitation by Christ to work for the glory of God.

-Father Emmanuel
