Thoughts on Today's Liturgy

Reading 1: Daniel 7:9-10, 13-14 His clothing was snow bright.

Reading 2: 2nd Peter 1:16-19 We, ourselves, heard this voice from heaven.

Gospel: Matthew 17:1-9 As he was transfigured before them, his face shone like the sun and his clothes became white as light.

Sacrament of Reconciliation available 30 Minutes Before Each Mass

Our belief in God is constantly renewed through the invitation Jesus offers us every day to accompany him to the Mountain of the Lord to behold the glory of God. Every Eucharistic celebration we attend is our faith response to the invitation of Christ, who gives himself to us as the Bread of Life, transforms himself in the Bread and Wine into his Glorious Resurrected Body, and leads us into the glory of God. This is the Transfiguration Reality that we experience in every Eucharistic Celebration, thereby making the Eucharist the center and summit of our Catholic faith. We experience the Transfiguration of the Lord and behold the glory of God in every Mass we celebrate. This glory of God in which we are privileged to share is not to be kept to ourselves alone, but it is to be made known to and shared with others. When Jesus gave the privilege to Peter, James, and John to behold the glory of God, Peter requested from Jesus that they remain there on the mountain. Thereupon, the voice of God made known to them the importance of sharing their experience with others, especially their fellow disciples after the resurrection. This vision was to be made known to others that Jesus is truly the beloved Son of God, and whoever has faith in him will surely share in the glory of God revealed through him. – Fr. Emmanuel
